Persch was arrested on the strength of statements made by John Sherwood, another note broker, who was called to the district attorney's office this morning. He said that at Persch's request he procured the securities from the trust company after having ob-tained the $50,000 for the purpose from L. J. Fields & Co., dealers in curb stocks. He thought the transac-tion was entirely legitimate and was ready to act for a percentage. He exhibited orders from Persch to redeen the securities and to put them on the market. Three hundred dollars was paid to Fields & Co. for the use of the money. L. J. Fields of the firm maintained that their part in the af-fair was a regular business transac-

Mysterious Feature of Case. The foregoing features of the case The foregoing features of the case seem to be plain enough, but behind them is the mystery of how Persch knew when and where M. M. Joyce, representing F. Augustus Heinze, placed the securities. It is considered coincidentally by the district attorney's office that Persch had his desk room in the offices of W. L. Clark, a note broker, who first directed Mr. Joyce to the Windsor Trust company for the purpose of obtaining the loan. District Attorney Jerome took active charge of the case today and other them.
